HYMEN IN HENDERSON.

The Pretty Wedding of Mr. R. J. Corbett and Miss Jennie Shaw.

HENDERSON, N. C., December 13 .-(Special.)-One of the prettiest marriages ever witnessed here was that celebrated at the Methodist Episcopal church last night at 9 o'clock. Miss Jennie Shaw. the pretty and accomplished daughter of Captain W. B. Shaw, became Mrs. Richard J. Corbett. The church was handsomely decorated with palms and other rare plants, and long before the hour was filled with the friends of the contracting parties, who are very popula Mr. Hill Parham was the best here. Mr. Hill Parham was the best man, and Miss Bettle Shaw, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The waiters were Mr. R. P. Watson and Miss Mattle Stallings, Mr. C. B. Chatham and Miss E. B. Boyd, Mr. W. R. Manenburg and Miss Lila Tucker, and Mr. S. D. Young and Miss Hening, of Wilson, N. C. The ushers were Messrs, W. E. Gary, Jr., and J. T. Thomas. Miss Daisy Stephens presided at the organ with her usual skill and grace.

organ with her usual skill and grace, and Rev. W. L. Cunninggim performed the ceremony. The bride and bridesmalls were handsomely attired, and carried bouquets of carnation pinks. After the ceremony the bridal party and friends re-paired to the residence of Captain W. B. Shaw, where a very pleasant re-ception was held and a splendid repast spread.

The breaks of tobacco are still very heavy here, and prices are holding up firmly. The warehouses are crowded to-

The people of Henderson, as well as the members of the Methodist Episcopal church are regretting that Rev. W. L. Cunninggim leaves here next week for He has spent four years here, and has made many friends. The people of the Fifth-Street church and of Wilmington are to be congratulated.

Mr. Blake and the Day-Labor Plan. the Editor of the Dispatch

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

In my debate upon the day-labor question when it arose in the Board of Aldermen on Tuesday night, I said I was opposed to concurrence for two reasons: First, that I did not believe in paying eighty eents for work when it could be done for forty-five; second reason was, it debarred the colored man from doing any city work.
